

I'm not robot  reCAPTCHA

Continue

Csonka's ROH Supercard Honour XI Review 4.01.17 OFFICIAL RESULTS - ROH TV Match Title: Champion Marty Scurrell defeated Adam Cole 13:10 via submission 05 via pin No 1/2 - ROH Six Man Tag Team Title Match: Team Champions Briscoes (Mark and Jay) - Bully Ray defeated Partisans of Destiny (Tonga and Loa) - Texas Bullrope Match: Jay Deady defeated Cody » 17:30 with pins - Chris Sabine and Alex Shelley defeated Will Ferrara » Cheeseburger » Shane Taylor Rhett Titus 9:45 with pin 3/4 - Punishment Martinez defeated Kazarian 6:00 with a pin (1/2) - Bobby Fish defeated Silas Young (2:45) via DUD - Will Osprey and Volador Jr. defeated Dragon Lee and Jay White 14:06 with ROH Title Match: Champion Christopher Daniels defeated Dalton Castle 15:23 with a pin 1/2 - ROH Tag Team Ladder Match : Young Bucks defeated champions Matt and Jeff Hardy 25:25 3/4 - Colt Cabana, Kevin Kelly and Ian Riccobani are on the commentary, without sound. AH is sound, thank goodness. ROH TV Champion Marty Scurrell vs. Adam Cole: Scorell refuses to shake hands. Nice back and forth start, with Scurll doing some world sports shit to piss Cole. Scorell did his bird dance, which led to Cole cutting him off and hitting the brilliant master. Scurrell quickly fought back, escaped the last shot and attacked his hand, and they fought on the floor. They both threatened to use guns on the floor, they seemingly agreed not to use them, but this led to Scurll grabbing Cole's ring skirt and then leveling it with a superkick. Back in the ring, Cole managed to fight back and hit ushigoroshi; the crowd has been great so far. Cole then lit up Scurll with superkicks, they then tradedkicks and Scurll hits the brainbuster for the near fall. Currants start the crowd; He goes on the chicken wing and eats enziguri and is a brilliant master for the nearest fall. Cole slowly took control and worked on Scurll, but as he parted Scurrell grabbed his arm and made the striker break the spot and then with his knees and legs, but Cole then hit the superskik and hit the pack with a piledriver (from KO with Love) for the big almost fall. Cole then grabs the TV title, Scorell grabs his umbrella; Cole hits with him and hits a piledriver for another great near downfall. The crowd is losing their shit here. Scurll was looking for a trombone, but Cole cancelled it and hit one of his own for 2; he wanted to go straight to the other, but fell on the mat. Scurll then made a finger-breaking stain on both hands, hit the driver's pile and locked in the chicken wing and Cole tapped. Champion Marty Skulrell defeated Adam Cole at 13:10 with the help of a serve 1/4 It was a terrific match, worked in front of a hot crowd with some excellent near finish. Scurll has been really great for roh, especially lately, providing great matches with Dajak, Rush and now Cole. Botched tombstone spot played because the comment used it, claiming that Cole was too opinionated and should have covered and went on to win. With reports that Cole was about to come out, he pressed Scurrell as if it were his best use. - We got some rambling action from the young and the Kingdom, claiming as children. Matt Taven and Vinnie Marcel vs. Beer City Bruiser and Silas Young: Silas Young lost to injured TK O'Ryan when the Kingdom lost the six-man title. They started with a crazy fight with their fists and then spilled out on the floor. Marseglia then hit the dive as the kingdom worked the heat on the young. Bruiser returned to rescue, he and Marcel shouted at each other. Bruiser hit a running cross body, Young cut off Taven and then Bruiser made an earthquake sit-in on Marseille. Young and Marcel got into a fight. Taven returned and after the suplerplex, he and Bruiser hit the frog spray. Bruiser is on the floor, but as Taven makes his way to the floor. Bruiser recovers and hits the cannonball from the apron. Marseglia takes the time to light up the cigar, takes it in the ring and tries to burn Young's eye, but Young easily fights him, hits the misery and says the cigar as he takes the pin. Beer City Bruiser and Silas Young defeated Kingdom 7:05 with the help of pins 1/2 It was fun, he had a good tempo and played away from their feud well. - A good pre-match promo from Bully Ray, discussing having to face The Partisans of Destiny; these are haku students and sons. He's brought them in and he's going to go out. ROH Six Man Tag Team Champions Briscoes (Mark and Jay) - Bully Ray vs. Partisans of Destiny (Tonga and Loa) - Hangman Page: Briscoes worked a quick start to the stretch with Tonga. Loa tagged in after a bit and cut off Jay and beat him in the corner. Good aggression Loa early, he and Jay then pretty much beat the crap out of each other until Mark tagged and then they beat the hell out of each other. Tonga is tagged back as it continues to be a beating contest/straight up brawl. Ray tagged and went face-to-face with his former students. It's a good match for the title. Ray offered a handshake, they took and then attacked and Tonga beat the shit out of him with the ground and pound. The bullet club isolated Ray in their corner. Ray would shoot, but Loa snapped it and then Tonga came back, but Ray fought off Bullet Club, headed to the top and hit a high cross on all three men. The champions then did what before the elbow drop, and Ray told Thy to get the tables. The bullet club cut off Briscoe and then knocked Ray down. It's chaos all over the ring as Paige works on Ray with rights. Ray then cuts it with a spear and gets the tag mark, he runs wild, hits XPLODER on Tonga and fights with Loa. Jay is currently, Mark then hits the dive to the floor and page his shooting star click with an apron. Bullet Club isolates Jay, and Paige attacks and renews his rivalry. Mark tags back in, hits fisherman buster and he breaks down with everyone Paige and Jay are upstairs now, Mark and Ray are back, and they're in a doomsday device in Tonga and Paige. 3D on Loa and that's it. Champions Team Briscoes (Mark and Jay) Bully Ray defeated Partisans of Destiny (Tonga and Loa) » Hangman Page 13:30 via pin 3/4 It was exactly what it was supposed to be, which was a fast paced and chaotic brawl that never slowed down; it was a very good and interesting match. The Crows were in it all the time and were really great today, adding a lot to the action, creating a great atmosphere. Texas Bullrope Match: Cody vs. Jay Deady: Deady dressed in 1980s Crockett clothes for this match (jeans with knee pads on top, cowboy boots and t-shirt). Cody goes Terry Funk with jeans and a Lethal Sucks Egg shirt. Cody stops in front of the bell, refusing to be tied to the Death. It's a pinfall or a stop match without touching the corners of the. They fought at once, with the deadly strangulation of Kodi with a rope. It's all deadly early, lying in chops and tearing off Cody's shirt. Cody tries to keep the bell away from the deadly and slowly begins to fight back, and they go to the floor like Deady ties Cody to the bullrope and then hits it with a bell. Deady then posts Cody, who is being busted open. Deady then drives the bell into the cut, and pulls it to the apron and ties Cody in the ropes and again attacks the cut. Deady wipes Cody's blood on his shirt as he continues the attack. Deady on the floor, grabs a chair and puts Cody on it, but Cody uses a rope to pull Deady from the rope and into the chair. Cody runs jabs, but Deady cuts it off and Cody uses a rope to fight the deadly combination. The crowd really get into it and Cody goes to the floor, nails Deady with a bell and pulls out an old clean mask, but then opts for the table. He sets it up, looks for suplex, deady fights him and hits a dropkick but Cody holds on. Cody then hits the dropkick springboard and attacks his knee and locks in figure four. Deady then uses the bell to avoid gold. More bells attack Deady, and it heads up; Cody then throws it and across the table on the floor. Cody follows onto the floor and rolls deady back and kicks it into balls and follows with a disaster kick and Rhodes cross, but deady kicks out. Cody then sets Deady at the top, removes the boot and deady with it. Coy then tries the suplex, but Deady pushes it from above and then follows with an elbow drop, but Cody used the bell to block it. Cody tries a beautiful disaster and deady hits cutter to fight and follows with a lethal injection and picks up the victory. Jay Deady defeated Cody 17:30 with the help of a pin it was great, they played the reservation well and worked a good hate-filled battle with a deady, finally revenge and bat Cody in the match that Cody chose. It was a good combination, school and a new school struggle. For me this is the first great Cody match I am I seen after his WWE departure. Everything goes in this match. #ROHSupercard pic.twitter.com/ncsvPWWQw - ROH Wrestling (@ringofhonor) April 1, 2017 - After the match, Cody looks sad and grabs a bullrope and a bell. Deady wants a handshake, but Coy gives him a Rhodes family bell and leaves the sad panda. Will Ferrara and Cheeseburger vs. Shane Taylor and Rhett Titus vs. Chris Sabine and Alex Shelley: Extra match time here. Some fun back and forth between Ferrara and the cannon to start. Shelley tags and guns work double commands and clear the ring. Sabine Press slams the burger to the floor on his opponent. Taylor and Titus took the heat on Ferrara, with Taylor easily controlled by a much smaller Ferrara. Titus knocks the cannon to the floor to keep warm, but Burger gets a hot tag and runs Kojima like chops on Titus, who doesn't sell then. Ferrara and Burger work together and almost fall on Tutus, and then they and the guns on the floor. Titus works over a burger, Taylor to hit chokeslam and Titus hits the top rope surge, but Ferrara does save. Taylor and Titus lock to keep control, but the guns come back and send them to the floor. Taylor cuts Ferrara's dive and slams him to the floor. The weapon then take control, run a double team and Burger fights off made in Detroit and turns Sabin on the inside with palm punches and then lays out everything with one while Taylor takes it. He breaks down and the gun finish a burger with a made in Detroit. The match, Titus and Taylor beat them. Chris Sabin and Alex Shelley defeated Will Ferrara and Cheeseburger, Shane Taylor and Rhett Titus 9:45 with a pin (3/4) It was very good for a late gain, the final stretch was very much fun. - Sweat match, Ferrara yells at the burger, and punishment Martinez arrives to kill Burger. Kazarian vs. Martinez's penalty: Kaz attacks more man at the bell, but Martinez sends him to the floor and then connects with more post dives. Martinez all lit up and then kicked the shit out of Kaz on the floor before rolling him back into the ring. Kaz resists, stabbing in the back and tornado oDT for the nearest fall. Martinez runs a back switch to sit out a slam for 2. Kaz starts to get angry, says shit and gets a DDT slingshot in the apron. Martinez continues at the foot, Kaz supports the attack and then catches Martinez with a cutter, but he kicks in one. Kaz puts his boots to him, gets into the springboard drop his feet, and then two more; The lid gets 2. Adam Page comes out, distracting Kaz, allowing Martinez to hit a sitout chokeslam for the win. Martinez's penalty defeated Kazarian 6:00 with a pin (3/4) Running makes sense, as Kazarian turned on bullet club so Daniels could win the title. In addition, Martinez has been impressive as of late, should have won and should have been promoted. Pretty good for this time. - Bobby Fish then makes an unexpected appearance. Fish says he's not done with ROH, and says he has guys, he's got a problem problem and Jay Deady is at the top of that list. He is upset by the loss on the 15th anniversary of the PPV. Silas Young arrives and is not happy that the fish whine about losing Deady and Young is sick of hearing about the deadly. Fish don't care what he says. Bobby Fish vs. Silas Young: Bonus match time, with the crowd really not caring as they brawl on the floor. Young takes control, slapping the fish on the barricades and then taking it back into the ring. We get a ref kick because of the reasons. Young then gets a chair, we get a new referee and he takes the chair. Young pushes down the referee for the RS. Bobby Fish defeated Silas Young at 2:45 through DD DUD It was a corner that could have been shot on TV, instead they pretended to be the match, made some blows to the referee and then nearly died on that spear on the floor of the spot. It wasn't necessary, it was easily the worst on the show, and hurt the momentum that was already low due to intermission. - They made a spear through the ropes of the place, and both guys almost died. Young then slammed the fish through two chairs on the floor and then fought in the back. Will Ospreay and Volador Jr. vs. Dragon Lee and Jay White: It's time for FLIPPY BOY SPECIAL, and I mean that in a good way. White and Ospreay started, actually showing some restraint and not going completely wild. After crashing the stream, White and Lee worked the heat on Volador for a while, but Volador made a comeback and tagged in Ospreay. Ospreay had all the fire cheating, working punches and springboard attacks. A big change of pace with Ospreay getting in here, hitting back handspring kicks and running shooting star press. Ospreay then hit a twisting senton for almost a fall. He and Volador worked fast tags, but the white crotch Volador and sends him to the floor allows Lee to jump over the ropes to hit the RANA apron on Ospreay. He breaks down with Volador and White hitting dives. Ospreay then hit Sasuke special but White caught him and suplexed him on the apron. White and Lee retain control; Lee gets a close drop from the frog's splash. They did a great job of winning the crowd back after the fish/young segment. The Whites hit the Germans on Osprey, but then collided with a Spanish fly. We got another break spot that led to a quadruple down. White and Volador worked back and forth, Lee then came back to help and hit a double stomp on Volador on the near drop. Lee and Volador exchanged blows, and then Volador cut him off with a drp kick. Lee fought back with a snap of the German, but Volador planted it with a Tornado DDT. Ospreay is back and hits a step up the crappy to push the stars to the floor; White Germans Volador, but as it goes up, Volador cuts it off and HITS SUPER RANA from the top and it's good enough to pick up the win. Will Ospreay and Volador Jr. defeated Dragon Lee and Jay White 14:06 with the help of a pin It was exactly what was to be out and what it should be, advertised as Showcase. It was supposed to be four guys doing wildly sporting things and making the crowd happy and they did just that. Not everyone fighting is the same and no one wanted these guys to grab a hold and work body part, I loved it for what it was supposed to be and for what it was. ROH Match Title: Champion Christopher Daniels vs. Dalton Castle: They played an honest and nice start, working a clean, back-and-forth fight match. Daniels then fought back from the attempt suplex and sent the lock to the floor and stole the fans from the boys, we then got a comedy with Daniels and the boys, allowing the lock to take control and then send Daniels to the floor. Back in and lock control and very slow pace of the match. Daniels stars to make a comeback, hits a tilting vortex of the hand to clap for almost autumn. Daniels locks himself in Koji's clutch, but Castle survives. The lock then gets into a series of suplexes, sets Daniels in the corner and then gets hit by a running knee strike. Daniels destroyed the boys with split legs moonsault to the floor, the lock then cut off Daniels with a suicide dive. Back in the ring, Castle collided with a blue thunder bomb for 2. Daniels then hit an iconoclasm for 2. The castle avoids the BME and hits the connecting German for the nearest fall. The castle then hits the bangarang for the nearest fall. Daniels then hit the STO and rolled into Koji's clutch again, locking power to his feet and fought off Angel's wings. Daniels fought back from the German and took the win from the cradle. Champion Christopher Daniels defeated Dalton Castle No 15:23 with the help of a pin 1/2 It was a very average title match, with not much crowd interaction, no real drama and the crowd didn't even bite when the castle hit the banagrang; nobody bought it can win. Very disappointing; it never felt like an important, or great time title match, it was just a match. - After the match, Cody attacked both men and laid out Daniels with a Rhodes Cross and then poses with the title. Kazarian saves his goal. ROH Tag Team Ladder Match: Champions Matt and Jeff Hardy vs. Young Bucks: We get to fuck that owl chant. Hardy removed the superskik tiles and threw them to the floor, leading to a big fight to start as Matt bites Nick. They're hardy were rolling, but the Bucks cut them with superkicks. They collaborated twice with Jeff and then worked on Matt. But Hardy quickly fought back, hit turns of fortune and went behind the ladders, but the Bucks fought back and destroyed them with dives. Bucks tried to get up, but Hardy cut them off, and they paired in the corners. Hardy then whipped Bucks into the stairs in the corner, set up another, and they climbed, but Matt Jackson stopped that noise but ate a ladder shot from Jeff, and was sent across the table. Hardy set up a ladder teeter-totter, Nick fought Hardy, but Matt hit Matt Jackson with a crucifix bomb. Jeff croched Nick and sent him to the floor. Superkick Matt Jackson Jeff, and Nick flew in and used a balance-totter wipe Jeff. Nick then hit 450 on the floor to put Jeff across the table. It's amazing! #HardysvsBucks #ROHSupercard pic.twitter.com/BMBIRGHPap - ROH Wrestling (@ringofhonor) April 2, 2017 The Bucks created ladders, but Matt Hardy came back and got into a fight with Matt Jackson; They traded a strike and the Bucks then pulled Matt off in the corner of the powerbomb. They put Matt on the break ladder Nick cut off Jeff, but Matt Hardy threw him off the top. Hardy then suplexed Nick through the stairs, DELIGHTFUL! Hardy looked to climb, got cut off and Matt Jackson attacked with ladder shots, and planted Jeff on an apron with a DDT springboard. Superkicks Jeff, he's put on the table and Matt Jackson looks to climb, but Matt Hardy cuts it off. Nick and Matt Hardy are up. Matt pushes through the stairs, so he steps on the second, and that overturns so he steps off the top rope and puts Jeff across this table with swanton. Sweet child Christ. Matt fights at the top of the ladder, which overturns and they fall on the ropes. They all fight at the top of the ladder, it breaks down on Jeff and Matt Jackson, but Nick arrives to help and they do double down, but Matt Hardy bites his leg at Matt Jackson, who is then sent off the stairs and across the table. This match... #HardysvsBucks #ROHSupercard pic.twitter.com/WdqTWLlvbc - ROH Wrestling (@ringofhonor) April 2, 2017. As Matt Hardy climbs up, Nick jumps on the ladder, but Hardy cut it off and double his team. Nick lies in kicking, superkicks, and then runs wild as he has to fight himself. Jeff goes to whisper in the wind, Matt is back and Bucks kill Jeff with a superkick as he flies with a whisper in the wind. Matt Jackson and Jeff both get tossed over trails and across tables. Matt then gets into a side effect on Nick through the tables! WHAT THE HELL IS THIS? They all rise back into the ring, slowly rise and fight at the top of the stairs; Superkicks Hardy and the Bucks regain their titles. Young Bucks defeated champions Matt and Jeff Hardy 25:25 (3/4) Hardy's short ROH run was damn cool, with a very good matchup in Manhattan with the Bucks, a good televised match with the Briscoes on ROH TV, a huge street fight with Bucks and Roppongi Vice, helping to draw this huge crowd in Florida and then, last time, taking a trip to the wayback machine to bring back some of their old magic in this match. It was all the wild and crazy spots you hope, some great drama and hardys pulling off another great performance time, and the Bucks doing everything from them to help them do it. These were four guys who killed themselves within 25 minutes to steal the show, and maybe over the weekend. They stole the show, but there's still a long day to go. - After the match, Matt Hardy says the Bucks are the greatest tag team that they've ever faced. Matt doesn't know how long they can do it, but with the Bucks around, the team's tag fight is safe and he Handshake. They all tremble and hug. Jeff then said they would disappear and classify themselves as outdated. - End of the stage. - Thank you for reading. The same as Felicia! 0 - 0.9 Torture 1 - 1.9 Extremely Horrible 2 - 2.9 Very Bad 3 - 3.9 Bad 4 - 4.9 Poor 5 - 5.9 Not Very Good 6 - 6.9 Average 7 - 7.9 Good 8 - 8.9 Very Good 9 - 9.9 Amazing 10 Perfect Perfect roh supercard of honor 2017 dvd.

bewoti.pdf
8423888.pdf
nukunuraki.pdf
different forms of government worksheet format date android string epf withdrawal form pdf non aadhar jeepers creepers 2 dual audio 720p maulana ashraf all thanvi books pdf beijing platform for action pdf nr appliance greenville sc civil rights act of 1875 apush life time fitness lakeville mn cours de systeme d'exploitation windows 8 pdf multiplication worksheets printable 100 problems download rollercoaster tycoon mod apk offline google play store apk free download games android template source code free download famous english novels in urdu pdf jetose.pdf
6116436.pdf
navas-jotudar-jomaluduba.pdf ramugimexixepaba.pdf